A MESSAGE FOR LENT

If you asked a school teacher what quality was most important in enabling a child to progress in his studies, he might well inform you that the ability to use, and the use of the power of thought were well up on the list. However, if you were to press the question further, the teacher would be quick to assure you that, in order to be constructive and even creative, that thought must be based on known facts, and must take into consideration the things which have been firmly established.

Thought, which is the basis of human progress and much of its inspiration must start from a solid foundation if it is to be fruitful. Thought which starts from imaginary points is the type of thought which leads to all sorts of ill... it produces the cranks, the "crackpots", and may eventually lead to what we consider mental unbalance.

Thought, like fire, when properly directed, is almost indispensable in human progress, but when like fire it is allowed to escape from its proper bounds, it becomes a destructive and dangerous force.

As thought is an essential to material forms of human progress, it is also essential to Christian progress. The season of Lent, which culminates in the greatest event of all, the Easter season, is one which is designed to stimulate human thought along Divine lines. This is the most important feature of Lent. To many Lent is a season when we must forego some desirable pleasure or satisfaction... but to merely undergo the restrictions of the season only to break forth in an orgy of self-satisfaction when the ban is lifted can produce very little good in the human soul. Only as the austerity of Lent leads one's thought to that which is higher, can that austerity hold benefit.

But aside altogether from Lenten prohibitions, this season is a time when it well behooves us all to make a careful survey of our own religious thought and position. (Really we should substitute the word Christian for religious, for the latter is a well nigh meaningless word).

To most of us, the problem is not one of whether Christianity or Mohammedanism or Judaism is right. For all practical purposes, the great majority of Canadians are professing Christians. In some of us the connection with the Church is close, in others it is loose, but in most of us it exists. When we are to be married we seek out the minister or priest, and when the angel of death calls on us we seek the solace of the Christian burial.

Unfortunately in many of us our association with things Christian is not too intimate, and our association with the Author of Christianity perhaps even less well developed.

It is the complaints of the Church that many a regular churchgoer and even many an industrious worker fails to adequately develop his association with the Master. In fact this same failing tends frequently to be cited as an excuse by those who would neglect their own Christianity.

Would it not be appropriate for us, at this time of Lent to center our minds on this whole matter of our relations with the God whom we acknowledge to be the Omnipotent. Our power of thought here will do much for us, for while a man cannot increase his stature one cubit by giving thought, it is nonetheless through thought and contemplation that we are drawn closer to the truths of the Omnipotent, even though it is through faith that we must finally embrace them.

On what shall we found our thought. Shall we just build our thoughts on the shaky foundation of our own imaginations, or shall we seek some more secure footing. Those who build on shifting sand must not be disappointed if their house shall fall. Where then shall we find the rock?

It is unthinkable that an all-powerful and omnipotent God would fail to provide his creatures which possess the intelligence of human beings with some tangible expressions of His wishes for them. This being the case, we as professing Christians or professing believers in God are led to the only work that has been acknowledged as being provided by Him... the Holy Bible. If we refuse to give the Bible credit for being the Word of God, we refuse to believe that God has condescended to give us any written instructions regarding His wishes and His destiny for us.

If then we acknowledge the Bible as the Word of God it is obvious that it is on this scripture that we should found our thoughts regarding our own life and its relations to God and to our neighbors. In the world of spiritual things, as in the world of the temporal, unfounded thought is both dangerous and unproductive.

Perhaps nothing urges us more strongly to a consideration of things Divine than the fact that this life is so transitory, and that death is so certain. Inspired by a feeling that there is something beyond death... something which may be either good or bad according to the direction we have chosen while in this life, we are moved to seek for something which will shed light on the future and establish in us a confidence that we may enter that future with an expectation of good. Absolutely the only promise we have on which we can place any reliance is that contained on the Holy Scriptures. Without the solace they afford we must face the grim reaper with no assurance whatever.

Christianity offers us not only hope but assurance. To grasp this assurance we must embrace the promises of the Divine first with thought and then with faith. Thought cannot increase our stature nor can it gain for us salvation... works too, as we are warned in the Word of God, will not purchase for us eternal satisfaction, for all the good works we can do here would not entitle us to so great a reward, nor would they prepare us for its acceptance. Only by faith can we grasp and hold the Unseen and receive the blessings that have been provided for us.

Let us consider these things this Lenten season and direct our contemplations in the paths that lead to everlasting satisfaction and contentment.

Joe Rutledge Says

By Joseph Lister Rutledge

THE HAZARD OF PENSIONS

Most of the recent advances in medicine have tended to prolong the life of older people. Consider the significance of this fact as applied to any pension system. To add one or two years to the group over 65 is to increase the number of older people alive by as much as one fifth. That, as Peter F. Drucker points out in his Harper's Magazine article "The Mirage of Pensions," means that to provide $100 monthly would require one-tenth of labor's total income.

Mr. Drucker is not opposed to pensions, as such. He only doubts their feasibility, if he considers that the recent steel strike established the principle of industry's responsibility to the older worker. But he points out that written in a clause that pensions shall be paid "as long as business remains excellent." That was not an evasion. Only under such conditions could they be paid. This John L. Lewis quickly proved by the collapse of his own pension plan, when the miners switched from a five-day to a three-day week.

The reason is simple. All present plans are "pay-as-you-go." That is, the employer pays into the fund just about sufficient to meet the need of those now eligible. As more become eligible, or as business conditions deteriorate, funds would be insufficient for the original demand, without any increase. Quite possibly the next union demand will attempt to blind the employer.

ployer to provide pensions regardless of conditions. This would be like King Canby commanding the tide to stand still. No employer agreement to use funds that did not exist could be binding. It could only mean bankruptcy.

What are the alternatives? Obviously, one would be to set up a fund similar to those provided by insurance companies to protect their annuities. But insurance companies build these funds over 25 to 40 years before there is any demand on them. To establish such a fund in a single year, Mr. Drucker contends, would require each employee to be capitalized, at from $2,000 to $10,000. At the lowest figure, a company employing 70,000 men, such as the Ford Company in the United States, would have to set aside resources, capital reserve of not less than $400,000,000. Obviously, this is hardly possible.

As the present system then is workable only under the most favorable business conditions, and a funding system, only if miscellaneous profits could be suddenly discovered, it is clear that the subject requires more thought and study than it has had. But Mr. Drucker suggests another and more hopeful method. Keep the older worker employed, at work he can do, and in which he will be both happy and productive. As most retired workers enjoy their leisure for a few brief years and then die, mainly of boredom, this looks like a sensible suggestion.

Edmonton, Alberta,
March 14, 1950.

The Editor, Star,
Wainwright, Alberta.
Dear Sir,

May I address a greeting to my old friends in Wainwright, through the columns of your paper?

My thoughts often turn back to my own little house there, particularly when I find I have to pay $118.00 a month rent for a house here in Edmonton.

I do think the putting in of the water works in Wainwright, a very excellent project and one that is well worth the money it costs. It means so much, particularly to elderly people, to have a bathroom with sewage in the house. A private sewer is rarely successful and is too much care.

It is rather a pity that Wainwright did not attend to such a necessity years ago, when labor and materials were cheap. There might have been many a man, unable to pay his taxes in cash, but willing to work a week digging the ditches, and laying sewage pipes, then, for them.

Those times will never come again, my friends. Labor is now well organized and with one purpose, and that is to refuse to return to them.

So here's hoping the town fathers will go ahead and complete the water-works project.

Thanking you, I remain, yours for a more comfortable town.

MRS. E. L. CHURCH.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Sir:—I note the Legislature contemplates many experiments, including compulsory hospital tax, agricultural research, advice and example, etc. directed towards reduction of farm production costs.

The provincial government should know all about this since they have operated experimental farms for so many years at Brooks, Olds, Redgwick and Vermilion, assets $209,665.91.

Revenue from above farms for the year ending March, 1949, was $4,559.75—an excellent guide for municipalities when the above farms, which no doubt have the best of everything, show a yearly loss of $24,490.48, according to the public accounts. Government officials should hang their heads in shame when attempting to saddle municipalities with additional expense with more experimental units for a single governing of school divisions, municipalities.

The Honourable N. E. Tanner in reporting to the House stated that two aeroplanes being used by the Government had taken 789 copiers in one month. Agreements have been reached with two organizations to continue program of warning on these predators. Under this set-up the Government will pay 75% of the cost and the rest will be borne by the local association.

Answering the CCF charge that they had forced the Government to set up Crown Reserves in 1947, Mr. Tanner told the House that the first Crown reserves were set up in 1937, just two months after he became minister. Amendments had been made to the Crown reserves again in 1948 and 1949 and would be made again when developments made it necessary, said Mr. Tanner.

In reply to the charge that only small men could get into the oil business, the Honourable Mr. Tanner pointed out that one hundred Canadian companies operating in Alberta today, made up entirely of Canadian people. Mr. Tanner had said previously that the million and a half dollars the Government received for a quarter section was only peanuts. He argued that the four million dollars the Government received for three quarters would, over the next twenty to forty years, yield the oil company 44 million dollars. The Honourable Mr. Tanner pointed out that the four million dollars that the Government has now is equal to $1.34 percent royalty on Mr. Rogers' estimate of 45 million dollars, and it has been paid in advance, some of it 20 to 40 years in advance. Add to this the 15% production royalty and the Alberta people are getting 30 to 45% royalty without putting any investment into the picture. The price of crude oil will not continue at its present high level when more production is reached and markets are found, so that the Government is even better off by having this sum in advance. 5% interest on the money received from such a quarter section would yield $4,000 a year forever, while the well will not last for more than 20 to 40 years.

The Minister pointed out how, back in 1937 he and others had gone to Eastern Canada and Great Britain to endeavor to get them to invest in Alberta's oil development. Generally they had refused to do so, and so American capital came in and started the job. 40% of today's oil production is coming from privately owned lands from which the Government does not receive one cent in royalty.

Premier Manning in his Budget gave the figures to show that the direct financial assistance to Municipal Districts is $14,748,000. When you add to this the cost of the cost for relief, old age pension, blind, pensions, mothers' allowance and child welfare services taken over by the province from the municipalities, it makes a grand total of $16,355,000 of assistance to Municipal Districts. This is more than 25% of the entire estimated provincial expenditures on Income Account. This is a definite evidence that the Provincial Government has assumed much of the financial responsibility of the municipalities.

In addition to this, 4 million dollars will be made available to municipalities on a loan basis for self-liquidating projects. This will be at an interest rate of 3%. Further, an additional sum of 13 million dollars will be made available over the next four or five years as a revolving fund to assist school districts in capital construction. Part of this will be as an interest free loan and a part of it will have the same effect as an outright grant.

In dealing with a resolution urging a National Coal Policy for the Dominion, Mr. Gordon Taylor pointed out that Canada last year imported nearly 50 million tons of coal, most of which has no better grade coal than produced in Alberta. He pointed out that the Dominion Government are aiding the New South Wales coal mining industry to the extent of a 10 million dollar loan, but were not prepared to assist in finding markets for Alberta coal.

THE WEEK AT OTTAWA
by the Canadian Press

A 12 year old schoolboy with a yen for dabbling in science touched off a nuclear, frantic search for 18 stolen radium needles in Canada's capital last week. The ensuing commotion showed the weighty deliberations on Parliament Hill into the background.

There was a Buck-Rogers-like atmosphere to the incident that caught the attention of Canadians from coast to coast.

The very work radium had an association with dread atomic power that caused newspaper readers and radio listeners in all parts of the country to sit up and take notice. Scientists and R.C.M.P. equipped with Geiger counters scoured a large area surrounding the National Research Council headquarters for a trace of the missing needles.

And finally there was the front touch of authorities instituting frequent radio broadcasts to warn the possessor of the stolen articles to get rid of them. The rays emitted by the radium-filled needles were highly dangerous.

As scientists and police investigating theft of the needles from a small frame storehouse at the rear of N.R.C. headquarters became suspicious that children were in possession of the needles, the search took on a frantic note.

CANCER IS THE MOST CURABLE OF ALL MAJOR CAUSES OF DEATH... IF DETECTED EARLY!

DON'T FEAR CANCER
(THE 3rd IN A SERIES DEALING WITH CANCER)

Cancer is simply a term for a disorderly group of cells

ONE of the most features of cancer is the FEAR it instills into people.

This fear, which in itself is harmful, often holds people from going to see a doctor when they feel vaguely that something is wrong with them. Everyone must FACE THE FACT THAT WHILE CANCER IS A DEADLY DISEASE, TO BE SURE, IT CAN BE CURED WHEN IT IS DETECTED IN ITS EARLY STAGE.

IT IS ONLY Common Sense to see your Doctor for a "CHECK UP" at least once a year—twice a year for women.

Waiting to "see what happens" when you feel something is amiss, may permit a curable cancer to become incurable by spreading to other tissues.

WHAT'S FOR SUPPER

'How often does that cry—"What's for supper?" come to the homemaker's ears, as the door admits children from play or from school and the workers of the family come home tired and hungry from their various activities.

For most of the year food is prepared for supper, particularly through the winter and these last chilly days of March.

Cereal products such as macaroni, spaghetti, and noodles are a good foundation for many excellent supper dishes, with potatoes and other vegetables running a close second. Other foods such as eggs, meat, poultry, fish or cheese may be used in small amounts for flavour and texture.

To cook macaroni, spaghetti and noodles, use 1 quart of boiling water and 1 teaspoon of salt to 5 ounces of the cereal, or in the case of macaroni, 1 cup of 1 inch pieces. Boil until tender, about 15 to 20 minutes, then drain and rinse in cold water to separate the pieces. (These cereals approximately double in bulk during cooking.)

Here is one answer to the very for something different. The recipe comes from the home economists of the Consumer Section, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Macaroni Souffle Ring

- 1 cup macaroni, in 1-inch pieces
- 1 tablespoon fat
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup grated cheese
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg yolks
- 1 egg whites

Cook the macaroni in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain. Melt fat and add with bread crumbs, top milk, cheese, salt and slightly beaten egg yolks. To the mixture, add the egg whites and mix thoroughly. Put the mixture into a greased casserole and oven-pinch in a moderate oven, 350°F., for 1 hour. Serve with a well-seasoned tomato sauce. This mixture may also be cooked in a ring mould and the centre filled with cream or mixed vegetables. Yield: six servings.

The Commons adjourned debate at the week-end on a note that sounded optimistic for Canada's old folk.

Health and Welfare Minister Martin put forward a motion that a joint committee of the House and Senate be established to study the whole question of old-age pensions. He said the committee would study all phases of old-age security, with the "real aim of establishing the best possible old age and retirement system for Canadians."

All parties in the Commons agreed that the pension system could stand improvement—but there the agreement ended.

Donald Fleming, Progressive-Conservative spokesman, said his party wanted immediate implementation of a national contributory old-age pension scheme and said the government was establishing the committee to relieve itself of "pressure" from all parts of the country for improved pensions.

Stanley Knowles, C.C.F. member for Winnipeg North Centre, called for immediate removal of the means test while Rev. E. G. Mansell, Social Credit member for Macleod, said he was opposed to a contributory system.

Secession Talk

Throughout most of the week the speeches in the House of Commons were pretty dull affairs. The meandering of those speech debates, rattling through its third week, mainly concerned private members' views of what was needed to help local conditions in their own ridings, or retort of charges and counter-charges about Canada's trade position.

But a Progressive Conservative member from the new province of Newfoundland injected a fiery spark into the otherwise dull debate.

Rising in the Commons, Gordon Higgins said the federal government had not lived up to its agreement on freight rates for Newfoundland. The lawyer-member said he would give up his seat—St. John's East—if the agreement wasn't lived up to.

What's more, Mr. Higgins said that if he resigned he would do everything in his power to get Newfoundland to secede from Confederation if his province continued to pay a higher freight rate than the three Maritime provinces.

Outside the house Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland said he is carrying the province's fight for a better freight rates deal to the federal cabinet.

As for secession, he said he was confident that the controversial issue would never sever the bonds that now tie the rest of Canada with the island province.

Macaroni Meat Special

- 2 1/2 cups macaroni, in 1-inch pieces
- 1 1/2 cups left-over meat, chopped
- 1 cup gravy
- 1 teaspoon spicy meat sauce
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup bread crumbs
- 1 tablespoon fat

Cook the macaroni in boiling, salted water for 15 minutes. Drain well. Together the chopped meat, gravy, spicy meat sauce, onion, salt and pepper. Combine with the macaroni and place in a well-greased baking dish. Cover with the crumbs, dot with fat and bake in a moderately slow oven, 325°F., for 20 minutes. Yield: six servings.

Scalloped Macaroni and Ham

- 2 tablespoons fat
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups macaroni, in 1-inch pieces
- 1 cup diced, cooked ham
- 1/2 cup grated, sharp cheese

Melt fat, blend in flour. Add milk and salt and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Boil macaroni in salted water until tender. Drain. Place half the macaroni in a greased casserole, add diced ham and half the sauce. Cover with macaroni then sauce. Top with grated cheese and sprinkle with paprika. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for 60 minutes. Yield: six servings.

SAUNDERS WHEAT THIRD BIRTHDAY

In March 1947, a license was granted for Saunders wheat. This action was taken after very exacting trials had been conducted for a period of six years, across the three prairie provinces. The field and laboratory data were reviewed and the variety recommended for acceptance at the February meetings of the Associate Committee on Grain Research. The main reasons for recommending Saunders for license were: It was two or more days earlier than Thatcher, had Marquis milling province. He felt sure Newfoundland residents were more in favor of confederation now than when they had voted to become the Dominion's 10th province.

and baking quality and was seen rust resistant. It was named Saunders after Dr. William Saunders, the first Director of the Experimental Farms System and his son Sir Charles B. Saunders, first Dominion Cerealist.

Saunders wheat originated from the cross 44.7 x Thatcher and was made at Ottawa in 1925, says J. G. C. Fraser of the Cereal Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. The first parent mentioned was from a cross between Hope and Reward made at Brandon Experimental Farm and Thatcher was developed at the University Farm, Minnesota. Both the parents of Saunders are stem rust resistant, 44.7 being an early maturing variety and Thatcher a good looking quality variety. Saunders resembles Marquis in colour and is superior to Thatcher and Red Bobs in this respect. It is highly resistant to stem rust, but, loose smut and root rot and moderately resistant to leaf rust. When licensed in 1947, there were only 235 bushels of Saunders seed available. This quantity was increased under contract with seed growers at the Experimental Stations at Lacombe and Beaverlodge, as Saunders appeared best suited to the areas served by these stations. The 6,700 bushels of seed harvested were distributed in 1948 to 877 Alberta seed growers in four to six bushel allotments. It was estimated that a 100,000 bushel crop was harvested that fall.

No distribution was made in Manitoba or Saskatchewan until 1949 when the two Provincial Seed Boards agreed to a distribution in the Northern sections of their respective provinces. The Marquis and Lacombe Stations distributed some 3,625 bushels to 355 growers in the aforementioned provinces in white the Lacombe and Beaverlodge stations, in addition, distributed some 7,360 bushels to over 1,300 farmers in Alberta and British Columbia.

Questionnaires sent out to the Saunders growers in 1949 have supplied valuable information on its behaviour

Twelve Rinks Attend First Artland Bonspiel

The Artland Curling Club held their first bonspiel on March 18 and continued until March 19. A total of 12 rinks entered from Artland and district.

This bonspiel was quite a success. Thanks for some of its success can be attributed to the draw committee, Harold Davidson, Allan Scott and Alvin Marquardt.

The lunch counter at the rink was in operation almost continuously during the bonspiel. A full inventory of the food was out to these ladies who by their co-operative efforts contributed in no small way to the financial success of the bonspiel.

The following were the prize:

PARADISE VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Beckwith, Mrs. Charles Heston and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Krugness were visitors at Wetaskiwin and Bashaw during the past week.

Quite a number from here attended the big ice arrival at Lloydminster on Saturday and three of the Concorde boys took first prize in their age group for their costumes. Congratulations boys.

Mrs. F. G. French, Garner and Shirley of Victoria, B.C., is visiting with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Shaw while her husband is down at Cornwallis Nova Scotia taking a leadership course in the Canadian Navy.

The many friends of Eric Nicholson will be glad to hear that he has been discharged from the Prince Albert San where he has been a patient for the last two years completely cured.

Contributions to Mr. and Mrs. M. Brown on the birth of a daughter on the Lloydminster Hospital on Thursday, March 18th.

The Agricultural Service Board of the M.D. of Vermilion River held an agricultural meeting in the P.V. Hall on Thursday, March 18th. This very interesting and instructive meeting was very poorly attended. It is very discouraging to those who sponsor meetings of this kind to receive such poor support.

In curling circles it is still very close in the struggle between President Baxter's stars and Vice-Pres. Royce's legionaries. At the time of writing the president is leading by four games but that does not mean a great deal with so many games still to be played.

St. Patrick's was duly observed in Paradise Valley when the P.V.H.S. sponsored a St. Patrick's Day party in the hall. The weather was a little on the cold side for print dresses but a good crowd turned out to support the Junior High.

A Community Film Program released by the National Film Board will be shown in the P.V. High School on Wednesday evening, March 22nd, at 7:30 featuring The Lion's Neckline an Indian Legend. These films are well worth seeing.

Mr. James Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Turner of Grand Prairie arrived here for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown.

We regret to hear that Mrs. Fred Braxington is a patient in the Lloydminster Hospital.

Rev. Mr. Morrison of Lloydminster conducted service in the United Church on Sunday afternoon.

Anyone wishing to donate to the Red Cross can leave their donations at the Post Office or with Mr. A. O. Lea at the Treasury Branch and receive an official receipt.

Prospects Of Oil Refinery Locating At Chauvin

Chasing news is circulating around the Chauvin district to the effect that there is good possibility of an oil refinery being located here in the near future. Of course nothing definite has been said yet, but indications are favorable and developments will be watched with interest. New York capital is interested in a location on a main railway line, where an ample supply of good water is located.

Prosperity Bonspiel Chauvin Rinks Take Most Games At

The second half of the Prosperity Bonspiel, which was held last week proved to be a very interesting event with curlers from Chauvin, Noros and Sitabone as well as the home curlers taking part.

Chauvin came out tops in the winning with Neil Telling, C. Spence, Lyle Miller taking W. Spence and Monty taking G. Davidson. Creston went down in an extra-end game to T. Brinkman of Noros, and we have not the results of the game between the two junior rinks skipped by D. W. Parole and E. White.

Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson returned from Unity last Saturday.

C. T. Dell, Fred Wright, Steve Schuchman and Al Holman of Neilburg paid a return visit to Chauvin Sunday and enjoyed a fine game of curling and some good Chauvin hospitality.

Mrs. K. Smyth (nee Dorothy Marquardt) of Regina visited a few days at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marquardt.

We are pleased to see Mrs. Ella Schopfer home again from Neilburg hospital.

Chris Duncan of Edmonton visited Mr. and Mrs. Blanche and friends around the district.

On behalf of myself and Winnie Marquardt we wish to thank all those who kindly donated, pies and cream and helped in any way with the lunch at the curling rink.

A precious cargo is taken off a plane at Malton, Ont., for an emergency trip to the hospital for Rick Chudwin in Toronto.

The cargo, a four-day-old baby, was flown from Saskatoon where doctors believe the baby was born without a septum, the connecting tube between throat and stomach. Satisfactory operating facilities not being available in Saskatoon, the baby, known only by his surname, Brown was given medical attention right to the hospital door.

Saturday next, March 25th, is the Feast of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, commonly known as Lady Day, the day of commemoration of the visit of the angel to Mary to tell her that she had been chosen to be the Mother of God Incarnate. It was a day of supreme importance in her life; and she being that one to whom our parish is dedicated, it is fitting that we should observe the festival as one of some importance also. As in past years, it being impossible to do much on the actual day, we dedicate and devote the Sunday nearest to the festival as a special day of praise, as we will be doing on Sunday, March 26th.

We are particularly fortunate this year in that our Bishop will be with us on that day. There will be two celebrations of Holy Communion. Immediately after the 9:00 a.m. celebration breakfast will be served in the basement, and it is to be hoped that all will be present in families. When we say "all" we mean "all", for the Communion service is not only for those who come up to the altar rails but for each and every one, young or old, the best possible service of thanksgiving. There will be little opportunity for Sunday School that day; the scholars will get their attendance star however if they are present at one or another of the services. At breakfast a collection will be taken to help defray expenses. After Evening Prayer a reception will be held in the basement to give us a further opportunity of meeting our Bishop. Let us all do what we can to make our festival day a memorable occasion.

LEGION STAGES SUCCESSFUL DANCE TO HOLD CARNIVAL THIS WEEK-END

The St. Patrick's Dance sponsored by the Legion on March 17th was very well attended. A great deal of credit is due the committee who had everything arranged so that the hall was ready for dancing just a few minutes after the show. The committee has requested that a very big "Thank You" be passed on to the good people who helped make the hall look like a "Little Bit of Ireland" by way of decoration. I believe a special thank you should go to all these Legion members who turned out in such numbers to lend support. Just goes to show fellows what can be done when everything is properly arranged and we can have support from members and the general public.

Friday and Saturday of this week will see the annual Spring Carnival. This promises to be the biggest Carnival yet and we extend a cordial invitation to everyone. Advertising regarding time will be found in the advertising columns of your Star-Chronicle.

McCafferty F.W.U.A.

The McCafferty F.W.U.A. held their meeting at the school on March 14. There were ten members present. Plans were made for a whist drive on March 22nd, to be taken over by the men if they want it. We arranged to provide lunch for the Jr. Red Cross Amateur Concert on April 4th. Five dollars was voted toward Farm Young People's Week, and one dollar was sent as requested, to send a delegation to Ottawa. A letter from Miss Tweedy was read and it was decided that we hold our next meeting at the Hall, on April 4th, if Miss Tweedy can come on that date. The bulletin on Arts and Crafts was read by Mrs. Bob Jackson. Lunch was provided by Mrs. Smithson, Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. Nicholls.

LaZerte, Dean of the Faculty of Education, University of Alberta will be featured speaker at the Annual General Meeting of the Alberta Teachers' Association to be held at Calgary, April 12, 13 and 14. Dr. LaZerte's series of messages to the provincial teaching profession will be "The Status of the Teaching Profession in Canada."
